OCKEY KNAPP FINED AND SET DOWN FOR ROUGH RIDING.

ling Silk Wins the Troy Stakes Caugh nawaga Beaten by Glenecho and Sonoma Belle in the Handicap Canteen and Schulamite Score Victories.

SARATOGA, Aug. 11.-Frank Farrell's Arkrts, who was disqualified in a stake race at righton Beach for fouling, met a similar ste at the hands of the stewards here to-day Iter he had run second in the Troy selling Stakes, for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs. Willie Knapp, who rode Farrell's colt, went before the stewards with a protest of foul against the winner, M. H. Tichenor's Bustling Silk, but Baird, who had the leg up on Muffins, followed Knapp and accused him of striking Muffins over the head with his whip at the stretch turn. The result of it was that Arkliria was disqualified and napp was not only fined $200, but was also suspended for six days. This decision gave the place to R. T. Wilson Jr.'s Adonis, who was coupled with Nostromo and was backed down to 3 to 1, while third money went to the Asbury Stables' Pythia, a 15 to 1 shot.
Rustling Silk, 7 to 1, went to the front at the half mile pole and after a slight jostling with Arklirta, she beat him a length in a drive in 197 1-5. Arklirta was well played at 6 to 1. The Irishman, who was a hot favorite, could not get out of his own way.

The interest in the handicap at a mile and quarter was centered in the appearance John Sanford's Caughnawaga, who picked up 129 pounds and was an odds on favorite The old campaigner ran a game race, but the tisk imposed was too much for him and he could do no better than finish third. S. S. Brown's Glenecho, to whom Caughnawaga Brown's Glenecho, to whom Caugnnawaga gave nineteen pounds by the scale, was backed down to 7 to 2 and with Willie Knapp up he made a runaway of it from the start. At the end he was just breezing, having two and a half lengths over the lightly weighted sonoma Belle, a 12 to 1 shot, who was three lengths before the favorite. Bragg was a head out of the money. The time was 2:06.

Fred Johnson's Schulamite, 18 to 5 favorite, after running King Pepper into the ground, won the handicap for all ages, seven furiongs, rather easily by a half a length in 1:28 1:5. J. A. Bennett's Jocund, 15 to 1. Ame from nowhere in the stretch and got the place from Rubric, 6 to 1, by a half a length, also. King Pepper was a head back, with Bad News and Alwin, both supported, not far away.

Jee Yeager's Canteen, 5 to 2 favorite, also. King Pepper was a head back, with Bad News and Alwin, both supported, not far away.

Jot Yeager's Canteen, 5 to 2 favorite, showed wonderful improvement over her previous races in the second event, for mares at a mile. She was off slowly but, getting a clever ride from Willie Knapp, she ran over the others and won in a drive by a length in 140 flat. New Mown Hay, 10 to 1, who followed Zinda's pacemaking for three-quarters of a mile, had no trouble in taking the place from John E. Madden's By Ways, a 30 to 1 shot. Lady Ellison, 14 to 5, second choice, was outrun from the start.

Jack Martin, on Knight of Rhodes, the favorite in the flith race, at a mile, after a long duel with Buchanan, who had the mount on King Rose, a 5 to 1 shot, yielded to the latter in the last few strides, King Rose winning by a nose in 140 1-5. W. B. Jennings's St. Breeze, to 1, was third, three lengths back.

John Sanford's Ravena, 5 to 1, won the last race, for maiden two-year-olds, in a gallon, running the five and a half furlongs in 182-5. John E. Madden's East End, the favorite, was second, beating Hocus Pocus, 100 to 100

CHICAGO GOLFERS WIN. Sawyer and H. C. Egan to Meet in Amateur Championship Pinal.

WHEATON, Ill., Aug. 11.—Two Chicago youths, Daniel Edward Sawyer of the Wheaton Golf Club and henry Chandler Egan of the Exmoor Club, will play the final to-morrow for the eleventh amateur championship of the United States Golf Association. The and Herreshoff, took their medicine like stoles. Young Herreshoff was as cheerful as any one could be under such circumstances, while Travis was able to jest about his upset. "Extraordinary, extraordinary," shouted "Extraordinary, extraordinary," shouted one of a dozen venders of Chicago afternoon papers as he thrust one into Travis's face "All about der doin' up of Travis."

"Take it away, boy," ordered Travis. "I know all the details about that "

It was in putting that Travis slipped up when he most needed it, on the seventeenth and eighteenth greens. They halved the first in 5, Fownes recovering from two poor shots by a grand midiron play from the rough to the green. Travis was in the rough from his drive, and also the second shot playing the second, Fownes winning in 4. They halved the third in 4, Fownes losing the fourth by getting the drive out of bounds, but winning the fifth in 4 by a better short game. Fownes hooked his drive from the sixth tee, and as the lie was bad found the rough on his second, Travis winning in 5.

All even now, they halved the seventh in a par 4. Now Fownes secred 3 3 3, while Travis needed 4 3 3, so that he was one down at the tenth. Fownes had lipped for a 2 here, but was content to be in the lead, even by a hole. The next four were halved in par solf, but Travis won, the fifteenth in 4, Fownes missing a three foot put. A ten foot put stole the sixteenth from Fownes in 3, but Travis took three puts on the seventeenth, and the Pittsburger won it in 4 and evened the match again. Neither was up in their thirds for the eighteenth, but Fownes had had to pitch from the rough while Travis had run up with the putter, a half in 5 resulting. On the extra hole, Travis drove short and also was bunkered on his third, and Fownes won in 6 to 7, for he overplayed his approach. The match was the best of the tournament as to scores, each having a 77. The cards were:

Fownes. 5 4 4 6 4 6 4 3 3 -39

Travis. 5 5 4 5 5 4 4 3 -40

Fownes. 5 4 4 6 4 5 4 5 -38 -77

Sysonby in the Great Republic-Andrew Miller Pays $10,000 for Sandy D. -Bennett Throws Away $50 Bills.

SARATOGA, Aug. 11.-With clear skies toy SARATOGA. Aug. 11.—With clear skies toy morrow the Saratoga Racing Association will be asked to entertain the greatest crowd in the history of the course, and right royally have they prepared for the outpouring of the turf's devotees. Interest will center in the running of the Great Republic, in which without with the winner's shore of the pures is really a the winner's share of the purse is really a fortune. There is some little question as to who will ride Sysonby, and all efforts to get the jockey's name from those who con-trol the colt have been fruitless. It is said on good authority that Nicol, who has ridden him in most of his races, is on his way from Latonia to take the mount. Should it be that he does not come there will not be any trouble in getting another boy, for the colt is a free runner, one of the sort that any one can ride. runner, one of the sort that any one can ride.

Oiseau was to have been piloted by O'Neil, but the suspension of this rider yesterday for a week prevents him taking the mount. "Diamond Jim" Brady who owns Oiseau to-day, appealed to the stewards, asking that the suspension be lifted for this one race. They seemed disposed to give him every consideration, and even called the starter into the conference, but that official refused to lift the ban. Redfern was finally selected and he will undertake the task of wresting victory from Mr. Keene's colt.

starter into the conference, but that official refused to lift the ban. Redfern was finally selected and he will undertake the task of wresting victory from Mr. Keene's coit. In the many discussions to-night over the probable result of the race, some were inclined to think that a point might have been stretched by the officials and O'Neil given permission to ride, especially as the engagement had been made a long time ago, but others contend there is just one way to get discipline on a racetrack and that is to play no favorites. It is just this spirit that has helped the Jockey Club to win the respect of every one.

W. C. Daly, who claimed Sunglow out of a selling race yesterday, did not keep the colt long and yet he made a comfortable profit. This morning G. R. Tompkins, acting for "Mr. Cotton," offered him an advance of 3650 and it was promptly accepted. The intention of Tompkins is to start him a few times here or at the meetings around New York, then nut him in his school for jumpers, as he believes the colt will prove very useful through the field. The colt will vinter in Virginia, where "Mr. Cotton" has purchased an extensive estate.

Efforts are being made to get back Pisobedient, who was claimed in the same race as Sunglow, but thus far the cisimant is not inclined to give up the gelding. He knows he has a bargain and is standing off a lot of political pressure as well as several very flattering financial offers.

The only development in the selling race crusade to-day was the bidding up of Canteen, who won the second race for Joe Yeager. He was entered to be sold for $1,000, and when offered Preston Burch carried the bids along until $1,700 was reached. Yeager's representative then bid the customary $5 extra and the filly went back to her old quarters. Andrew Miller to-day purchased from H. M. Ziegler the two-year-old Sandy D., paying, it is said, $10,000. This looks a pretty steep figure for this colt, who has never shown hus far are far short of the customary $5 extra and the full he had in the weigh can Turf Association. The Western horsemen here are hoping that this story is correct for they realize they are up against a stiff game here in the East, and will be glad to find a place where they can use their material to better advantage.

Jockey McIntyre was suspended for three days by the starter for disobedience at the post in the second race. It looks as if some of the boys are drifting into a habit of taking chances, but Starter Cassidy is determined to have them kept in line, no matter how many he is compelled to put on the ground.

The condition of Jockey W. Davis was very much improved to-day, and he expects to be able to ride again before many days. His friends, in accounting for his collapse yesterday, state that he has been suspended so many times this summer that in the intervals of idleness he takes on flesh, and then when he starts to reduce he finds his general condition affected. They further state that if he gets many more "rests" it will mean a permanent retirement.

Amsterdam sent up a hig delegation to-day to see Caughnawaga run in the handicap, for they are byal to a man to anything that John Sanford sends to the post. They found some consolation in the victory of Ravena in the closing event, but it was the big horse they wanted to see come to the finish in front.

This was schooling morning for the jumpers, and during the bour that the course was open it was a busy place. Several of the green ones attracted attention and gave promise of developing into useful performers, but the star of these cut was a three-year-old from the stable of Thomas Hitchcock, who, the stear of these cut was a three-year-old from the stable of Thomas Hitchcock, who, the stear of these cut was a three-year-old from the stable of Thomas Hitchcock, who, the stear produce a bill of sale from Edward Corigan for the steeplechaser. YACHTS HAVE A GLORIOUS RUN SYBARITA LEADS NEW YORK FLEET TO MORRIS COVE.

Race of the Day Retween the Minesia and the Yankee, and the Yankee Wins, Amateur Outdoing Professional Side by Side They Go for Seven Miles.

MORRIS COVE, Aug. 11.-The squadron MORRIS COVE, Aug. 11.—The squagron of the New York Yacht Club made a glorious run from Glen Cove to-day. In a spanking breeze from the southwest the British built yacht Sybarita, with spinnaker and balloon drawing, crossed the finishing line, at one end of which was Commodore Frederick G. Barnes's flagship Colonia, at 2:05:07. A little astern of her was the schooner Corona. She had started after the Sybarita and had gained nearly two minutes, so the Corona made the fastest time over the 39½ miles course. The actual sailing time was 3 hours
47 minutes 18 seconds, which is better than ten knots an hour. The Lascs, owned and sailed by Robert P. Doremus, was the second schooner in, being beaten by the Corons minutes 51 seconds.

The race of the day was between the Mineola and Yankee, and the Yankee won by 30 seconds. This race was a fight between an onds. This race was a fight between an amateur and a professional. J. Rogers Maxwell sailed his own boat, the Yankee, and Capt. Barr had charge of the Mineola, and the amateur won through clever handling. The Mineola led at the start, but the Yankee gained on her and at the middle ground, when three-fourths of the race had been according to the tree-fourths. when three-fourths of the race had been sailed, the two boats were on even terms. Then for nearly seven miles they kept side by side, so near that those on the two yachts could have conversed, and each skipper used all his skill to coax his boat ahead. Sails were carefully trimmed and retrimmed, and grown were religiously to change the balance. and crews were shifted to change the balance of the boats. The Mineola crossed the line ahead, but the Yankee had started behind and crews were shifted to change the balance ahead, but the Yankee had started behind and she won the race.

The 30-footers sailed the most remarkable of all the races. They were sent off at 10:05 o'clock and the Dahinda, owned and sailed by W. Butler Duncan, Jr., crossed the finishing line at 3:05:17. The other ten finished in the next 9 minutes and 12 seconds. They are pigmies beside the Sybarita, and the yawl has to give them a big allowance. All the sloops and yawls were in one class for a cup given by Compnodore Bourne, and this was won by the Dahinda. Another cup for schooners was won by the Katrina.

Just before reaching the finishing line the sloop Cheemaun, owned by J. Oliphant, carried away her topmast. She did not finish. The Elmina is in the harbor in charge of Capt. Lem Miller. She will race to-morrow against the Corona and Laska. Capt. Dennis was the captain of the Elmina, but his mother is very ill, and he has been obliged to leave the yacht for a time. The Elmina is a new boat, and Capt. Miller will be greatly handicapped, as he does not know the boat. The run to-morrow will be to New London.

The committee was promptly at the line and in accordance with the commodore's orders the preparatory signal was made at 10 o'clock. The finishing line was off the western breakwater at Morris Cove, thirtynine and a half miles away. This meant a run and a hot day's work, but all hands were ready and willing.

The little fellows were the first to come under the committee's gun. They got their signal at 10 % and went for the line like so many scared birds and all in a bunch. On the next signal, five minutes after the 30 footers, some of the larger sloops were started. The slick looking Phantom, owned by H. G. S. Noble, led this division at the line. To windward of her was the Humma, owned by H. W. Emmons of Boston, and to leeward of her and in a bad pocket between the two was the Mira, sailed by Charles Lane Poor. The Irolita, owned by C. Howard Clark, was the next to get to the line, and then came Robert Tol would be able to beat the cracks. The Shark was the next and the Katherina last of this division.

These boats were all sent off with a one gun start, but the next lot were allowed two minutes to get over the line, and their actual times of crossing were taken. Capt. Barr was the first at the line with the Mineola. She had her balloon jib topsail broken out and drawing well before she got to the line. Then the spinnaker was set and the yacht was off at 101548, with all sails drawing. Next to her was the Sybarita, owned by W. Gould Brokaw. She crossed the line at 10:15:59. The Yankee followed, but Mr. Maxwell, who was at the wheel, killed the yacht's way by ranging down the line and then bearing away without the light sails drawing, and it was some minutes later before the balloon jib topsail was set. The Yankee was timed at 10:16:34. The Weetamoe, with H. F. Lippitt at the wheel, was next, and crossed at 10:16:35.

The schooners were next, and to see those big boats sail for the line was a sight worth going miles to witness. They had their kites all drawing and crossed in such close order that at times it seemed as if they would collide.

Just as the Vencedor got over her balloon going miles to witness. They had their kites all drawing and crossed in such close order that at times it seemed as if they would collide.

Just as the Vencedor got over her balloon jib topsail was broken out, and the sail lifted up in the air a sailor who was trying to make fast the sheet. If lifted him outboard, and he neatly dropped into the water. A life buoy was thrown to him and the yachtamen, when she got clear of the others, put back to pick him up. In the meantime the power boat Vampa, owned by Clement Morse, ran over to the sailor, picked him out of the water and later transferred him to the Vencedor.

The boats spread out on the Sound. Some held in well toward the Long Island shore until past Lloyds Point and in so doing got the full benefit of the ebb tide, which ran strongly out of Oyster Bay. The sight was a glorious one and those who followed on the cruising vessels enjoyed it thoroughly. The breeze freshened. It was hot, but the wind kept things comfortable, although on the achoners not mich air had a chance to cool the sailors or yachtamen.

The Sybarita, Mineola and Yankee soon gained on the smaller sloops that had started ahead of them. About noon the leaders were off Lloyd's Point. The Sybarita, with her tall mast towering in the sky, was in the lead. Then came the Mincola and Yankee, and asterh of them the Humma and Doris. The new Herreshoff boats) far had not done much to astonish the yrothemen, and the Humma, an old boat, was holding her well. The Corona was the leading schooner, and next to her was the listle katrina.

The Ariadne was the leading schooner, and after her was the little katrina.

The Ariadne was the leading schooner, and after her was the little katrina.

The hold of the Middle Grouted, and the Sybarita was in the lead still. The Corona had passed the 70-footers and taken second place. The Mineola was a little ahead of the Yankee and then came the Lasca.

TO-DAY'S CARD FOR SARATOGA. Great Republic and Hopeful Stakes Are Attractive Features.

SARATOGA, Aug. 11 .- To-morrow's is creating a world of interest. The $50,000 Great Republic Stakes, weight for age, one mile and a quarter, is the leading attraction. James R. Keene's Sysonby, hitherto invincible, will pick up 119 pounds and meet James B. Brady's Oiseau, a high class three year-old with 116; S. S. Brown's Broomstick, with top weight; F. R. Hitchcock's Dandelion, winner of the Travers Stakes, and H. P. Whitney's Prince Hamburg. On form and work, Sysonby and Oiseau will probably carry the public's support, with the chances in favor of the Keene star. For the rich Hopeful Stakes, a six furlong race for two-year-olds, John Sanford's Mohawk II., winner of the Santaga Special will have to neek 150 rounds. Saratoga Special, will have to pack 130 pounds, the same impost to be carried by H. P. Whit-ney's Burgomaster. Mr. Whitney has also ney's Burgomaster. Mr. Whitney has also named Pegasus, a crack son of Hamburg, to go, together with Juggler, who has only been seen once, when he ran second to Mohawk II. In an overnight event. H. M. Ziegler's Sandy D., who ran second to Battleax in the Grand Union Hotel Stakes; James R. Keene's Commando colt Oyama, W. L. Powere's Meteor, William Hendrie's Shine On, a colt by Mazagan, and Fred Burlew's Bell-snicker are the others named to face the starter.

The Shillelah Steeplechase is another feature, with the English jumpers Sea Horse II. and Gatebell, meeting Malden, Sandhurst, Jimmy Lane and others. In the first race, for two-year-olds, five and a haif furlosgs, Hermitage, Aviston, Optician, Lord of the Forcet, Ruth W. and Bivouac have chances. The fifth race is a mile event, in which gentlemen riders will have the mounts, Ralbert, Lineal and Old England being worthy of consideration. The lest event is a handicap for three-

The New York Americans clinched with the Chicagosagain yesterday and nosed them out. The victory came in handy, as the Bostons won from Detroit. The Philadelphias had a hard battle with the Clevelands and beat the retrograding Blues, and the Washingtons and St. Louis Browns broke even on a doubleheader. The results:

NEW YORK (A. L.), 2; CHICAGO (A. L.), 1.

The influence of Elberfeld was stamped all over yesterday's game at American League Park, a game in which the New Yorks keel-hauled the arile actors from Chicago by a score of 2 to 1. Al Orth's fine pitching had a deal to do with the victory, but in more direct doings the game was not only stamped but embossed and illumined with Elberfeld. In scoring the Kid was the beginning and the end, the alpha and omega. A defiriously wild throw of his gave the Chicagos their only run, and a rasping three-bagger of his sent New York's only two runs over the dish. Herolcally did he "surn what seemed danger to delight" after creating that danger.

With a minimum of hits, the New Yorks made a maximum of runs. Doc White's smooth working drop ball made the New Yorks easy outs in nearly every inning. There was only one man left on base, and only seven men reached base in all. In a majority of innings the New Yorks went out in one, two, three order. Their one good opportunity they grabbed with avidity, except that earlier Fultz reached second with nobody out, failing to score because of poor inside ball. The problem of dealing with men on bases faced Orth oftener than it did White, and he handled it with intelligence and superlative dexterity. His effectiveness was thoroughly consistent. With two exceptions, his support was excellent.

That the New Yorks meant business and

With two exceptions, his support was excellent.

That the New Yorks meant business and were on edge was shown at the start, when Jimmy Williams sprang in the air and made a onehanded catch of Green's liner. It was in the third inning that the Whites scored. With two out Green grounded to Elberfeld, who fired the bail miles over Chase's head and into the illimitable beyond. Green came all the way home.

Sullivan led off with a single in the fifth, but was nipped by a neat and foxy play. Tannehill tried to bunt, and Sullivan took a big lead. Chase played well in for the bunt, leaving first base, so Sullivan seemed to think, uncovered. But subtle James, surnamed Williams, was attending to that, He slipped behind Sullivan to first base, and subtle James, surnamed McGuire, who was in on the coup, tossed the ball down to Williams before Bullivan could get back there. From the standpoint of quick thinking that was the prettiest play of the game.

The sixth was New York's harvest time. Dougherty hit to right for a base, New York's first hit. He went to second when Keeler went to first on four belis. Elberfeld drove the ball straight and sharp over Tannehill's head, and it traveled so fast that Callahan could not head it off. It rolled to the fence, and Elberfeld tried for a home run. Callahan and Davis returned the ball quickly but Elberfeld looked to be on the plate when Sullivan touched him. Connolly, however, sald out. That was not the only decision of Connolly's that created dissatisfaction. He called a couple of strikes on the Chicagos that did not look to be within bat reach.

Davis was the first man up for the White Sox in the ninth and hit safely to left. Callahan bunted a line fly to Orth, who laced the ball to Chase and doubled up Davis. Donahue, nicknamed Jiggs, struck out, and the Chicagos' jig was up.

New Yorks Beat St. Louis Without Much Trouble-Brooklyns Lose in Chicago.

The New York Nationals began the last aries of their present Western trip yester-day by disposing of the Cardinals easily. The Philadelphias fought the Pittsburgs tooth and nail for twelve innings and lost. The Brooklyns were a run short in Chipago, and the Bostons, who are going pretty well, defeated the Reds. There was one change in the standing, the Chicagos passing the Quakers. The results:

St. Louis, Aug. 11.—The New Yorks made the St. Louis Cardinals look like pygmies in the opening game of the series to-day. Taythe opening game of the series to-day. Taylor twirled an excellent game for the visitors while the support he received was of a glitedged variety. Thielman pitched for the locals, in his opening was very bad. Then for four innings he twirled a good article of ball, but in the sixth he found the utmost difficulty in finding the plate, incicatelly landing the ball in the side of two of the New York batsmen. The game was hopelessly lost then even thugh the Cardinals had succeeded in starting a batting raily. This was the first same played under the new manager. M. Stanley Robison, and if it is an indication of what is to come the fardinals will soon be the cellar champions.

The New Yorks' aggressiveness and fleet base running were the features of the day. An amusing double steal was pulled off by Dahlen and Devlin in the sixth while Thielman held the ball. When Jack woke up to what the visitors were doing Pahlen was across the plate and Devlin was calmly seated on second. The score: lor twirled an excellent same for the visitors Seated on second.

Time—1 hour and 38 minutes. Attendance—2,100. PITTSBURG, 1; PHILADRLPHIA (N. L.), 6.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 11.—One of the most remarkable games in the history of baseball was played here to-day and won by Pittsburg in the tweifth inning. Up until the tweifth not a Pittsburg player had passed second base. In that inning, however, Courtney's wild throw let Wagner get safe at first. He stole second and continued to third on a wild throw, from where he scored on Howard's hit. The score:

Baseball Notes. Delma-Yes; two. One against St. Louis and one against Chicago.

Pitcher Rhoades of the Clevelands has been suspended for three days for abusing Umpire O'Loughin. O'Loughlin.

Bill Bradley, pecriess third basemen, is a better player than prophet. His clairvoyant abilities went astray the other day when he opined that the Blues would take three from the Philadelphias. Still, he only missed it by two. That garrulous bunch of eight Pittaburgers who were chased off the bench by Umpig Liem the other day have been fined 310 apiece. It is probable that one or two innocent ones suffered with the guilty in this case of chin music at $30 a bar but it was no time to try to make nice distinctions.
